Renewi plc

Press Release

---

Fire at Amsterdam site will cause minimal disruption

On Saturday evening, a major fire took place at Renewi's Icova facility on the outskirts of Amsterdam.

There were no injuries, and the fire service, supported by Renewi colleagues, brought the fire under control and were able to prevent further damage. Investigations to determine the cause of the fire are underway.

The main Icopower facility, which manufactures specialty fuel pellets, has not been damaged but there has been extensive damage to the sorting halls, which will be subject to further inspection.

Good teamwork and planning have enabled Renewi to continue to serve our customers by using our nearby locations.

We do not believe that there is a material uninsured loss arising from this event and we expect to be able to continue to serve our customers as usual.
