Shanks Total Care video showcases value of integrated offering in the Netherlands

Shanks' Dutch businesses operate under a variety of geographic or market specific trade names that have strong specific resonance. However, they also combine to offer a unique range of services to customers that include industrial cleaning, waste transport and the treatment of organic, hazardous or solid waste. They co-operate with each other under the umbrella brand of "Shanks Total Care" and a video has just been produced to support the acceleration of this service offering.

This short promotional video with UK subtitles is shown in the following link:
