Van Gansewinkel appointed Gert-Jan Antvelink as new CFO

Gert-Jan Antvelink (48) will be joining Van Gansewinkel as the new CFO from 1 March 2016. In time, he will also be joining the Executive Board. Gert-Jan will be succeeding Ton Vernaas, who was working for the company on an interim basis before switching to the Bosal Group on 1 February this year.

For the past 13 years Gert-Jan worked at KPMG. He started as a consultant and his last position within the organisation was partner at KPMG Transaction Services. Before moving to KPMG, he fulfilled various positions at companies such as Booz Allen & Hamilton and as a lawyer at Loeff Claeyss Verbeke.

At KPMG, Gert-Jan frequently advised CFOs of various companies in the areas of finance and improvement projects. He is accustomed in building relationships and helping employees and clients finding the best solutions. Gert-Jan has been involved with Van Gansewinkel as an adviser for several months now and is acquainted with our company.

We are very pleased to have been able to attract Gert-Jan with his specific experience and track record at this short notice. Gert-Jan is married and father of three children.

Please feel free to contact Guus Groote Schaarsberg in case of any questions.
