The Roles of the Chairman, Chief Executive and Senior Independent Director

Role of Chairman

The Chairman leads the board and is responsible for its overall effectiveness in directing the company. They are pivotal in creating the conditions for overall board and individual director effectiveness, setting clear expectations concerning the style and tone of board discussions, ensuring the board has effective decision-making processes and applies sufficient challenge to major proposals. The Chairman ensures all directors are aware of their responsibilities and holds meetings with the non-executive directors without the executives present in order to facilitate a full and frank airing of views.

The Chairman is responsible for:

1. Meetings

- Chairing board and general meetings and those of the Nomination Committee.
- Running the board and ensuring its effectiveness in all aspects of its role, including regularity and frequency of meetings.
- Setting a board agenda primarily focused on strategy, performance, value creation, culture, stakeholders and accountability, and ensuring that issues relevant to these areas are reserved for board decision.
- Shaping the culture in the boardroom, encouraging all board members to engage in board and committee meetings by drawing on their skills, experience and knowledge.
- Ensuring that the board determines the nature, and extent, of the significant risks the company is willing to embrace in the implementation of its strategy.
- Ensuring that there is appropriate delegation of authority from the board to executive management.
- Ensuring that the directors receive accurate, timely and clear information, including that on the company's current performance, to enable the board to take sound decisions, monitor effectively and provide advice to promote the success of the company.
- Managing the board to allow enough time for discussion of complex or contentious issues. The Chairman should ensure that directors (particularly non-executive directors) have sufficient time to consider critical issues and obtain answers to any questions or concerns they may have and are not faced with unrealistic deadlines for decision making.

2. Directors

- Facilitating the effective contribution of non-executive directors and encouraging active engagement by all members of the board.
- Ensuring constructive relations between the executive and non-executive directors.
- Holding meetings with the non-executive directors without the executives present.

3. Induction, development and performance evaluation

- Ensuring that new directors participate in a full, formal and tailored induction programme, facilitated by the company secretary.
- Ensuring that the development needs of directors are identified and, with the company secretary having a key role, that these needs are met. The directors should be able to continually update their skills and the knowledge and familiarity with the company required to fulfil their role on the board and its committees.

- Identifying the development needs of the board as a whole to enhance its overall effectiveness as a team.
- Ensuring the performance of the board, its committees and individual directors is evaluated at least once a year and acting on the results of such evaluation by recognising the strengths and addressing the weaknesses of the board. Where appropriate, through the Nomination Committee, proposing that new members be appointed to the board or seeking the resignation of others.

4. Relations with shareholders

- Ensuring effective communication with shareholders.
- Maintaining sufficient contact with major shareholders to understand their issues and concerns, in particular discussing governance, strategy and remuneration with them.
- Ensuring that the views of shareholders are communicated to the board as a whole so that all directors develop an understanding of their views.

5. AGM

- Arranging for the Chairmen of board committees to be available to answer questions at the AGM and for all directors to attend.

In addition, the Chairman should:

- Uphold the highest standards of integrity and probity.
- Set the agenda, style and tone of board discussions to promote effective decision making and constructive debate.
- Ensure that they are fully informed about all issues on which the board will have to make a decision, through briefings with the Chief Executive, the company secretary, and members of the executive management as appropriate.
- Ensure clear structure for, and the effective running of, board committees.
- Ensure effective implementation of board decisions.
- Promote effective relationships and open communication between executive and non executive directors both inside and outside the boardroom, ensuring an appropriate balance of skills and personalities.
- Build an effective and complementary board, and with the Nomination Committee, initiate change and plan succession in board appointments (except that of a successor as Chairman) subject to board and shareholder approval.
- With the assistance of the company secretary, promote the highest standards of corporate governance, seeking compliance with the UK Corporate Governance Code. If full compliance is not possible, ensure that the reasons for non-compliance are fully understood, agreed by the board and explained to shareholders.
- Ensure an appropriate balance is maintained between the interests of shareholders and other stakeholders (employees, customers, suppliers and the community).
- Ensure the long term sustainability of the business.
- Ensure the continual improvement in quality and calibre of the executives.
- Establish a close relationship of trust with the Chief Executive and Chief Financial Officer, providing support and advice while respecting executive responsibility.
- Provide coherent leadership of the company, including, in conjunction with the Chief Executive, representing the company to customers, suppliers, governments, shareholders, financial institutions, the media, the community and the public.

Role of Chief Executive

The Chief Executive is accountable and reports to the board and is responsible for running the group's business.

The Chief Executive is responsible for the following, within the authority limits delegated to them by the board:

 - Health and safety policy, risks and procedures (to be reviewed annually)
 - Communications policy (including procedures for the release of price sensitive information)
 - Investor relations policy
 - Corporate social responsibility policy (including environmental, employee communications and employee disability)
 - Charitable donations policy;
- Ensuring that all group policies and procedures are followed and conform to the highest standards.
- Together with the Chairman, providing coherent leadership of the company, including, representing the Group to customers, suppliers, government, shareholders, financial institutions, employees, the media, the community and the public.
- Keeping the Chairman informed on all important matters.

Role of the Senior Independent Director (“SID”)

The SID provides a sounding board for the Chairman and serves as an intermediary for the other directors and shareholders.

1. Shareholders

- The SID will be available to shareholders if they have concerns which contact through the normal channels of Chairman, Chief Executive or Chief Financial Officer has failed to resolve or for which such contact is inappropriate.
- They will attend sufficient meetings with major shareholders and financial analysts to obtain a balanced understanding of the issues and concerns of such shareholders.

2. Chairman

- The SID will chair the Nomination Committee when it is considering succession to the role of Chairman of the board.
- They will meet with the non-executive directors at least once a year to appraise the Chairman’s performance and on such other occasions as are deemed appropriate
